

Making a Missionary Outline

Spiritual Mentoring Series – Information Sheet

Thank You

A huge thanks for taking on the call to be a spiritual mentor! God has chosen you to be a changing and mentoring agent for a recently baptized individual. We are very good at leading people to Christ, but not so good at making sure they stay with Him. That's why your role is so valuable. And it's not about coming to a program, or organizing an event. It's about a mentoring relationship! It's about being with them over the next 12 months in their walk. Your experience, spiritual discernment and presence in their lives will determine their future, and God willing, the future of many more that they will win for Christ.

Introduction

This is a 12 month follow-up training course designed to disciple someone who has recently been baptized. The person should already be connected with other areas of church life, but one-on-one mentoring is also important.

These studies are a tool to guide your mentoring. But please remember - you are the mentor. This means that your relationship and role modeling will have as much impact as the studies. So keep close to them, and keep showing them what a true missionary looks like.

Here are three simple objectives for you to keep in mind as a spiritual mentor:

1. To pray for him/her daily
2. To plant mission into the heart of your person
3. To meet with him/her once per month

And an ultimate target for you to aim for:

- For your person to lead someone else to Jesus over the next year

Check out our Bible study topics below, which you'll be covering over the next 12 months:

Structure

For each session you spend with your person, here are five areas which you can include to keep their journey focused:

1. Welcome – spend time loving and caring for them by catching up
2. Worship – in song and/or prayer
3. Witness – share about how God has used you over the past month
4. Word – share the study
5. Work – challenge them with a new spiritual challenge which you will keep them accountable for
